

NORTHERN WRITERS' AWARDS

Your Data

New Writing North and Northumbria University are Joint Data Controllers and New Writing North is the data processor of your data. The data you provide will be:

- Included in the assessment process to ensure that your application meets the eligibility criteria.
- Stored digitally and securely on New Writing North's online cloud network.
- Shared with academic research partner Northumbria University for inclusion in the research programme. Data shared will include demographic information, your self-definition statement, responses regarding socio-economic background and lived experience, and responses to the optional evaluation research questions. All shared data will be anonymised.
- Please note that if you choose to respond to the optional evaluation research questions, these answers are not a part of the application process and will not be considered when assessing your application.
- In submitting your application, you are providing your consent for your data to be processed as outlined above. You can withdraw your consent at any point.
